

A top-down photograph of tofu Caesar summer rolls on a white marble surface. On the left, two rolls are shown: one wrapped in a translucent rice paper with a piece of seared salmon on top, and another wrapped in lettuce. In the center and right, several rolls are cut open to reveal fillings of tofu, lettuce, and avocado, topped with a creamy white dressing. A small glass bowl of the dressing with a spoon is in the bottom right, and several dollops of dressing are scattered on the marble surface.
